

A lift and supply system for emptying containers

Material technology

Deswarte developed a complete conveyor system for a new line marketed by this manufacturer, who is a global player in material technology in satellites, rechargeable batteries and LED applications.

Collaboration Deswarte

The lift and supply system consists of chain conveyors on which 1800-litre containers are transported. These are filled by means of tippers built in different heights.

